

As a paying customer of XM satellite radio, I do not understand how the NAB can restrict the programming for traffic and weather. Satellite radio reaches a wide band of listeners through their satellite services with the information that they provide, that you just cannot get through regular local radio stations. Using my satellite radio in my car has been remarkably useful for this vital information when traveling.